landfill notices raise ire again

Bureaucratic lightning hits city residents second time

BELLE GLADE - Lightning may not strike in the same place twice but residents of Vaughn Circle have found out bureaucratic errors can and do.

For the second time since June 10, 29 homeowners on the Sugar Subdivision Street have received notice a landfill will be built within 1000 feet of their property and a number of them let City Manager Robert Sanders know Monday they didn't like the idea.

The original notices were mailed on June 10 by the Florida Bureau of State Lands, informing the residents they would soon be neighbors to the landfill unless they objected.

It was only after the objections started pouring in to city officials, who had nothing directly to do with the notices, that the error was found.

The site, now owned by the state, is where the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority hopes to construct a landfill, an incinerator and a mulching operation. It actually lies adjacent to the existing city landfill more than 7,000 feet from Vaughn Circle.

The original mistake was made when Florida Land and Title Co. in West Palm Beach supplied an erroneous list of names to the Bureau of State Lands.

The Authority is applying to the state to have the land donated for the solid waste facility which is supposed to provide service to the entire western part of the county.

The second mistake, according to Bureau of State Lands land management specialist Kathryn Daniels, was no mistake at all. She said she had been advised by Bureau attorneys that since the people originally notified had failed to withdraw their objections, although the objection was based on erroneous information, they would have to be notified of the hearing.

The second notice was thrown into further confusion when the Bureau failed to have the hearing advertised in time and now Mrs. Daniels said another hearing has been tentatively scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Oct. 27 at the City Commission Chambers at 33 West Avenue A, although she still hasn't notified the newspaper to have the legal notice run.

City Manager Robert Sanders said the current situation came up Monday when several of the same residents who had first been erroneously notified began calling his office to object and a delegation headed by Mrs. Dorothy Kendrick of 1241 Vaughn Circle visited his office Monday afternoon.

Sanders said he telephoned the situation to Solid Waste Authority Director Tim Hunt in West Palm Beach. Hunt said he called Mrs. Daniels and found what the situation was and then had Mrs. Daniels call Sanders.

Both Sanders and Hunt said Mrs. Daniels told them about the advice she received from the Bureau attorneys but both agreed that they couldn't understand why, when the notices were sent, some explanation to the Vaughn Circle residents wasn't included with the notice received by each.

Mrs. Daniel said Wednesday morning in Tallahassee that the same residents would receive a third notice of the Oct. 27 hearing in the next few days but she would try to include a letter of explanation in each of the notices.

"This is the first time we've ever notified the wrong list of people in a case like this," she said. "The original mistake has really balled things up for everybody, both here and, I'm sure, in Belle Glade."

IT WAS ALL BUZZ-INESS Monday when the Rev. Guldmar Blair was called by Christian Day School to get rid of a swarm of bees...even if beekeeping is a hobby for the pastor of the United Community Methodist Church. The Rev. Ray Stedham, principal of the private school, said a science class had coincidentally visited the ten hives kept by Rev. Blair at his home last week so he knew just who to call when the swarm was found Monday morning on the school grounds. Rev. Stedham took advantage of the opportunity by releasing all the school's classes so the youngsters could see what the buzz wuz. When the swarm had been safely deposited in a box hive without anyone getting stung (Rev. Blair said the bees were too preoccupied with finding a new home to attack), Rev. Stedham asked Rev. Blair if he used the bees to keep his Methodist congregation awake.

Sugar Sub building material still undecided

BELLE GLADE-A running argument on the City Commission about what type of housing should be allowed in the final 34 lots of Sugar Subdivision flared to life again Monday night, with no apparent solution in sight.

A resolution which would have included both a 1,200 square foot minimum size and allowed only CBS type homes to be built as part of the deed restrictions failed to pass the commissioners' and things were left as they are until an informal survey can be completed.

Commissioner William Gear, who has objected to a plan by developer Dr. Howard Hill to build wooden houses on lots owned by the city, on grounds wooden frame houses are inferior, is conducting the survey.

He said he is checking among all the persons who have already purchased or begun purchasing lots to see what type of structures they are planning and would like to complete the survey before taking any action.

When Gear first registered his objection to wooden houses, Commissioner Tom Altman said he didn't feel the city should rule on any type of structure allowed within the Southern Standards Building Code, which is the model for the city's code.

"If we prohibit wooden houses in Sugar Subdivision," Altman said during a recent workshop session, "I think we ought to prohibit them from being built anywhere else in the city."

But another objection to the proposed restriction came up when Building Inspector responded to a question that the resolution would also prohibit the construction of the type of poured concrete building recently approved by the commission for Wallace Lutz to build, along with several other types of structures that use wooden frames with brick or metal veneers.

Gear said he didn't have in mind prohibiting those types of structures and said the resolution might be reworded to exclude only those homes with exterior walls built of wood.

Another argument broke out when Gear and Altman disagreed on whether persons who have made a down payment but who haven't paid off their lots should be included in the proposed restrictions.

Gear said he believed anyone who has already paid off his lot should not be held to the restrictions but those who haven't completed the pay-off should be.

Altman said he didn't believe the city could enforce the restrictions on anyone who has LOTHARIAN AGER, project leader of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission Lake Okeechobee Fisheries and Management Program gave Belle Glade Rotarians an update on the seining operation in the Lake Tuesday.

Seining update given

BELLE GLADE-The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission hopes to document this year the Commission's seining operation in Lake Okeechobee is accomplishing the goals set down before the operation began 11 months ago.

Lotherian Ager, the Commission's project leader for the Lake Okeechobee Fisheries and Management Program, updated the Belle Glade Rotary Club on the project Tuesday and said there have been problems but he feels the 5 million pounds of fish which have already been harvested should be contributing both towards less pollution and the prospect of larger fish being caught by sports fishermen.

Besides enforcement problems, however, Ager said another problem the Commission hasn't been able to solve has been the marketing of all the fish involved.

He cited the black crappies being caught and dumped because there have been no buyers. "We thought we could sell them to the prisons," he said, "but they've come up with any number of reasons why they can't."

He said early thoughts were that the black crappies would supply meat on a regular basis to the prisons but prison authorities say they would have problems in issuing cleaning knives to inmates to prepare large numbers of the fish and even told the Commission there would be problems among city-bred prisoners who might choke on the bones.

"I know it sounds funny at first," Ager said when the Rotarians laughed at the two reasons, "But it isn't funny to us any more." He said the Commission is now negotiating with the National Fisheries Commission on a deal to export the crappies to Thailand.

"They're apparently protein starved and don't care about bones," he said, "while our prisons can afford to pick and choose."

Ager said the solution to another problem may also be in the offing. In response to a question on the boundaries supposedly being observed by commercial fishermen, he said the commission is in the process of drawing up boundaries and marking them with buoys.

"Originally," he said, "there was apparently some question about the mile limit from emergent vegetation and there have been several incidents when courts have withheld adjudication, which means commercial fishermen, who

Farm Bureau meeting set

BELLE GLADE - The Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau will hold its annual meeting and dinner at 6 p.m. Oct. 8 at the Belle Glade Marina, hosting state representative Bill James as the main speaker.

James is expected to speak on the state's Constitutional Revision Commission, on which he serves, and some of the proposed revision which he has come across.

This is also the meeting at which Bureau members are encouraged to submit proposals for action which could become Farm Bureau policy.

Members will also elect a slate of officers for the local bureau. The families of members are being encouraged to attend and bring covered dishes. The Farm Bureau will provide meat, bread and drinks.

300 CUBANS registered their disapproval of United States recognition of the Castro regime Monday when a petition with their signatures were presented to the Belle Glade City Commission to be passed along to Gov. Reubin Askew and President Jimmy Carter. The Commission accepted the position from spokesmen Oscar Toledo and Enrique Molina and authorized a resolution supporting the protest but suggested copies also be sent to U.S. Rep. Paul Rogers and U.S. Senators Lawton Chiles and Richard Stone. The text of the protest was carried in the Sept. 22 Belle Glade Herald.

I've seen a lot of "firsts" in my time, but one of the most unusual ever was Monday morning when a bunch of Baptists called on a Methodist for salvation.

That's right. Called him right in to save them.

It appears Christian Day School attracts more than able students of reading, writing, and arithmetic. It also attracts bees. A swarm dropped in to get some education, much to the dismay of the Baptist school's teachers and pupils.

And since a group of students had paid United Methodist minister Buck Blair a visit last week to see his beehives, he was the first fellow who came to mind who could get the bees out of the teacher's hair, so to speak.

So Brother Blair arrived, safely canning the swarm, and the bees are now happily residing with others of their kind...in the Methodist bee yard.

Which brings on another point I've noticed about bees and their keepers. They can be easily divided into two groups. Preachers or pure incorrigibles. Some may not be true preachers, but they are at least regular church goers, which quickly separates them from the incorrigibles.

My guess is that one group is satisfied in the knowledge they are heading in the right direction and in case of a bee disaster, they have nothing to worry about. The other group, in the meantime, is equally certain of the direction in which they are going.

Working around bees must take a lot of faith, at least for the one group. The others? Well, it doesn't matter anyway.

My father-in-law is one of the incorrigibles. He was also a beekeeper, among other things, up to and including a cow hunter when South Florida was young and a ranch foreman on a spread about as far back in the woods as Tarzan would wish to venture.

But he's a delightful old incorrigible. He can spin yarns as long as there is an audience to listen and frighten small children to their mother's side with tales of ghost and goblin.

Jessie (that's my father-in-law) must have seen the light as his daughters approached the age of wedlock. That's when he gave up beekeeping and moved out to the ranch.

It worked for a while, but since the eldest two went out and found boyfriends and husbands no matter what obstacles were thrown in their paths, he gave up the woods and moved back to town. I suspect his real reason was that he had one remaining daughter, about to become a true spinster, and he figured since I had just moved to Florida, I was a likely target for a ring in the nose.

Immediately after the ceremony and with her safely out of the way, Jessie moved back to the woods. And there he resides to this day. Occasionally, I will admit, he comes to town to do a little dragnite work, but it's only when the boss can find him and he needs the money.

With the money from the job sent, he's back to the swamp...back to being incorrigible.

On the other side of the coin are men like Brother Buck and Brother Fred Applewhite. (Who was, by the way, also a Methodist minister. Wonder if Methodists are the ones most singled out to become bee keepers?)

Brother Applewhite was my hometown minister for years and years. Matter of fact, he was retired when I became old enough to go to church. He lived into the 90's, if I recall correctly, and even at that advanced stage in life, had written several books of significant historical value to Mississippians. He also kept bees every day of his life.

In addition to keeping them, he sold queens into slavery. All over the country. In fact, Ted Usell of Glades County, a beekeeper who belongs to the same group as Brother Fred and Brother Buck, bought some of Brother Fred's queens and noted that each was healthy and well mannered.

Unfortunately, Brother Fred was too busy recording the history of Walthall County, Mississippi, to do much in the way of writing about bees.

But maybe we can talk Brother Buck into taking up the hobby. And we warn him in advance that writing about bees can sometimes be much more dangerous than wading into a knee-deep swarm.

There oughta be a law

They did it again with the legaleze.

Back in June, there was a group of people on Vaughn Circle who were quite naturally upset when they were notified they were going to be unwilling neighbors to a garbage dump...or sanitary landfill as the euphemism goes.

Only thing was, those people were the victim of an error on the part of a title company in West Palm Beach and an absence of good sense on the part of Tallahassee bureaucrats.

No one ever intended to put a landfill in the neighborhood in the first place but there was no way for a layman to understand that. The notices said there was going to be one built within 1000 feet of their homes and then gave a legal description which only experts can read.

They never thought to give some kind of description of the property the average person could understand and it took a formal letter of apology to soothe some justifiably ruffled feathers.

This week the state started ruffling again when the local residents received notice a public hearing was going to be held Oct. 6 on whether the state should donate the land on which the landfill is to be constructed.

The explanation given was that since those Vaughn Circle residents were first notified, even if it was a mistake, they had to be notified again. There was no explanation as to why no explanatory letter was included with the notice. The result was another group of angry citizens trooping into City Manager Robert Sanders' office demanding an explanation.

And the whole thing could have been avoided by a simple inclusion of a description of the land which could be understood by laymen, along with the legal description.

There oughta be law.

They're crazy

The following editorial is reprinted from the July 18, 1977 issue of The Florida Times Union.

"Police in several jurisdictions across the nation...say: 'You know, he has no remorse...'"

Thus began a recent news account by Brad Holt in the Washington Star concerning one Allen Leroy Anderson, who has pleaded guilty or no contest to three murders, is charged with three more and is a prime suspect, in seven states, in others. Nice guy.

He is reported to have described, in detail, eight killings to one detective. Ballistic evidence, fingerprints and other physical evidence link all eight murders to the same perpetrator.

"Seven of the victims," the account continues, "were shot execution-style in the back of the head. The eighth was bludgeoned with a hammer..."

And then the revealing part of the story:

"...Since his capture, Anderson apparently has worried more about avoiding the death penalty in Florida than about professing his innocence.

"One of Anderson's court-appointed attorneys said...that Anderson's first concern was that he avoid being executed. The attorney, Lester Gendron, said Anderson told him he avoided committing murders in Texas because he knew they had a death penalty there.

"Anyone who thinks the death penalty is not a deterrent is crazy," Gendron said..."

To continue:

"...In Florida they would like to put Anderson on death row with the other 86 condemned persons...Ultimately they would like to put Anderson in the electric chair.

"But they will probably have to wait until at least 1994 to do it. In January Anderson made a deal.

"He pleaded guilty to a murder in Minnesota, where the case against him wasn't strong, on the condition that he be able to serve his time there (thus delaying return to possible execution in Florida)..."

There is, in this account, a moral which is virtually impossible to miss. But just in case anyone could do so, it can be spelled out.

This remorseless killer "avoided committing murders in Texas because he knew they had a death penalty there."

Anderson apparently didn't realize, at the time, that Florida does have a death penalty.

If so, some innocent victim, now dead, could well still be living.

The facts show that Anderson is by no means alone in his fear of the death penalty. This nation's annual murder rate averaged around 8,000 victims, consistently, during the last three decades that capital punishment was still operative. Then with capital punishment shoved in limbo, it more than doubled in a decade.

The case discussed here amounts to testimony from an expert in murder that the death penalty is a deterrent.

Letter

Dear Editor:

I'm writing to you concerning a problem that we as young people are having.

There are not enough part-time jobs in Palm Beach County for the teenagers.

I feel there should be more jobs provided for the teenagers, who want to work after school, from four to nine in the afternoon, weekdays, and on weekend and holidays. On weekends and holidays the working hours should be from nine in the morning until five in the evening.

We, as teenagers would like to work, to help us through school and to help our parents out. We need the extra money for things we want but don't want to ask our parents for the money.

Yours very truly,

Daphney Smith

A Cuban lesson

What at first may have appeared to be an exercise in futility, when a group of local Cubans protested U.S. overtures to the Castro regime, could act as a reminder to Americans what their grass roots political heritage is.

When we first heard about the petition being passed around last week in the Cuban community, we felt the same way many others did. Why protest to the city fathers? What can they do?

What they could do was authorize a resolution supporting the petition and fire both documents on to President Carter, Congressman Paul Rogers and U.S. Senators Lawton Chiles and Richard Stone.

And if enough petitions and resolutions are sent to the people who can and do make foreign policy...or ratify the treaties in the Senate, somebody's going to start to pay attention.

Let's we forget, it was in just this small way that the seeds for the American Revolution were sown. People at the local level got mad about King George's policies and started agitating to do something about them.

There were only 77 colonists at Lexington, not nearly as many as the signatories to the petition presented to the commission Monday night.

It all had to start somewhere and if the people of this area, Cuban and Anglos, don't like the idea of the recognition of the Castro regime, and there are good humanistic and economic reasons, were better than at the local government level.

If the buck stops in the Oval Office, it can as easily start in Belle Glade...and a lot of other Belle Glades where people care.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Just because you're paranoid doesn't mean people aren't out to get you and when it happens often enough, you just might be paranoid. The band even when you've been on the straight and narrow.

Take last week. Believe me, you can have it.

That I was sitting fat, dumb and happy in Gene Badger's office trying to get some information about the upcoming rummel shindig the Farm Bureau throws when he pulls out my auto insurance file and throws me a funny look.

"Have you had any traffic violations lately," he asked and I ponder both the question and why he asked it and told him I couldn't recall any. Then he asked if I'd had any in the past three years and I thought that was a funny question since I'd just had the insurance renewed not too long ago.

I still couldn't think of any so he drops the bomb...in the form of one of those bureaucratic idiot sheets no one but a person with a doctorate's degree in bureaucracy can read.

I been driven for more than a year with a suspended driver's license and didn't even know about it.

"Wait a minute," I yelled. "I've got it right here. How could it be suspended? What kind of a deal is this?" All in wounded innocence of course, because I'd forgotten that speeding ticket last July.

Come to think of it, I understand there are two sure signs of encroaching senility: loss of memory and not to recollect what the other one is.

Anywho-o-o, the whole thing started that ill-starred evening I was trying to hustle some newspapers to Pahokee and get on home for the night when the trooper stops me and says something like, "How'd do. You have been exceeding the crystalized national speed limit, of 55 avoirdupois miles per hour, God's natural hour."

"Now, I'm always willing to give you good motorists a little bit...like say if you yuz don't go 70, I might would be looked the other way. And if you'd been don't say '80, I'd probably have given you a warnin' and you could've eased off and told that trooper down the road you hadn't received no waring even after I had told you not to tell him that. But this 85 stuff has got to cease and desist. We just gotta get this situation under control, so I'm gonna let you talk to the judge."

Well, knowing Judge Don Adams the way I did, I knew I had it made. With him knowing my general character and moral fiber he'd let me off with...huh-uh. Knowing my general character and moral fiber, he'd probably throw me under the jail so I decided to pay the fine...even it was unjustifiable.

I mean, what the heck, why be so picky? Soo-o-o, realizing the plight of my general financial circumstances (that's a good word, plight) I called my ole buddy, ole pal and asked for a month's continuance. I figured it'd take that long to beg, borrow or raise by some other nefarious manner the $25 to get me out of hock with the state.

Never mind how I got it but anyhow, I did manage to pay the fine without hocking my teeth and general health, and that's where things went what you'd call awry.

Somebody...I guess it was one of those computers which don't make mistakes...never got the word and even since last August, I've been driving with an invalid, immoral and fattening driver's license...without even knowing it.

First time I even been one of your fugitives from justice. Guess I got something in common now with Merle Haggard and David Janssen. Mmm-hmm. First think I had in mind when I skulked from Gene's office was finding a false mustache and some platform shoes, he would be heck, there just ain't no quick way of disguising what I delicately call my girth.

So I just went on over to the courthouse and said, "Where do the lawbreakers go to give themselves up, Cap'n?" Only to find out they didn't even want me.

Turns out...and this may be worse than being wanted...was that so far as the computer was concerned, I didn't even exist.

Just as well. It was bum rap anyway.

Thieves take TV, checks

BELLE GLADE - Area merchants were warned this week to be on the lookout for 29 checks stolen Saturday during a burglary of a local businessman's home.

Belle Glade Police Detective Curtis Stambaugh said the checks, and a 21 inch Admiral Television set were stolen during a burglary at the home of Leroy Williams, 43, of 553 S.W. 14th St. Stambaugh said two checkbooks were stolen, including a personal checkbook colored light yellow and checks drawn on the account of Best Color Studios, which Williams owns. All the checks are made out on the Bank of Belle Glade.

Brevard hearing could affect Glades area telephone users

BELLE GLADE - A public hearing on phone rates in Brevard County could affect Glades customers of Southern Bell Telephone Co., local manager Bob White said this week.

"A Brevard delegation has proposed that all long distance charges be eliminated for calls within their county," White said. "Doing so could affect the telephone bill of every Florida customer."

White said the Public Service Commission hearing, scheduled for Oct. 25 in Merritt Island, is considered important enough to the company that all phone bills this month will be stuffed with reminders outlining what is being proposed and Southern Bell's position.

"Customers may not be aware," he said, "that extending the local toll-free calling scope of one area could affect them financially. Many years ago some exchanges were combined into larger local calling areas under a program called extended area service, or EAS."

White said the program served a dual company-customer benefit at that time since long distance calls were manually connected, ticketed, and billed and when the free calling was expanded, the toll losses were more than balanced by operator and billing savings.

"Today," he said, "with direct dialing, long distance is one of the company's more efficient and automated services. Expanding local calling scopes under today's conditions means more facilities, lower long distance revenue and higher charges for other telephone offerings."

He said EAS proponents in Brevard have gone on record advocating the costs of a toll-free Brevard be spread throughout the state and born by all Southern Belle customers.

"At a time when the company is trying to keep basic telephone charges within everyone's economic reach," White said, "bigger local calling areas make no sense."

"If the PSC accepts Brevard's request," he said, "and passes the costs along statewide, residential bills alone could go up between 10 and 15 cents a month."

"What's worse," he went on, "is that Brevard is only the tip of the iceberg. There are six other areas in the state with active requests for extended area service and more can be expected in the future."

As an example of what that could mean to Glades residents, White said an earlier request by Hollywood to have Miami included in its local calling area would have upped residential charges by 63 cents per month.

"Time after time," he said, "company studies have shown that only a small percentage of customers need and benefit by extended local calling areas."

"With the costs of telephone service rising, it is more important than ever that the user should pay."

City sticks with county, also West Palm libraries

BELLE GLADE-The City Commission decided Monday night to continue including the City Library in the Palm Beach County Library system, but also approved a request to include the library in a free exchange agreement with libraries in West Palm Beach, Lake Park and Boca Raton.

There was some discussion when City Manager Robert Sanders told the commissioners the county's support of the city library would actually be $7,877 this year, less than previously, but the measure still passed with Commissioner Tom Alkman asking Sanders to find why the county share had gone down.

According to the agreement, the city will provide free library service to residents of the unincorporated areas surrounding the city and in exchange, the city will receive certain advantages from the county.

One thing Sanders said wouldn't be available in the future, however, and which would probably mean a cutback on the benefits for the city to remain in the agreement, is that the county can no longer receive federal or state assistance.

According to federal and state guidelines, Sanders said, grants are only available to the county library, or city library within the county, which serves at least 75 per cent of the county's residents.

When West Palm Beach City Commissioners decided some months ago to pull out of the county agreement, that reduced the county's participation to under 75 per cent.

Later, in the meeting, Sanders also requested and received approval from the commission for the city to enter into a free exchange agreement with West Palm Beach, Lake Park and Boca Raton libraries.

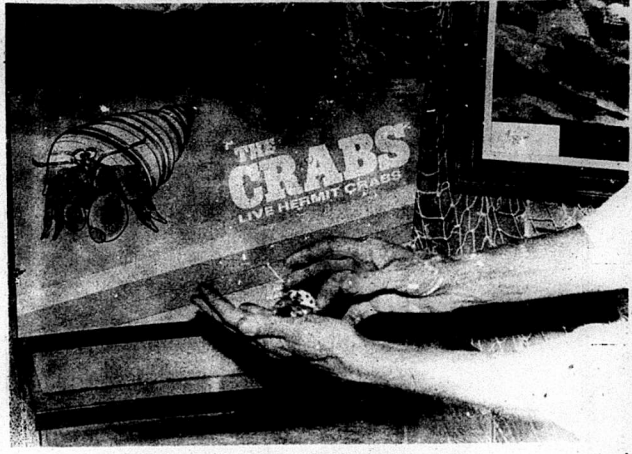

Sanders said that agreement wouldn't cost the city any money but simply allowed Belle Glade residents to use the libraries in those cities at no charge and vice versa.

"We'll benefit much more than West Palm Beach in this agreement," Sanders said, "because more people from Belle Glade go over there than people from West Palm come over here."

In other business, the commissioners:

- Approved on final reading ordinances which raised the rates for water and sewer by 15 per cent.
- Granted a bid to Rubin Construction Co. of West Palm Beach in the amount of $17,382.50 to repave Southwest Eighth Street south of Southwest Avenue E.
- Discussed but came to no agreement on whether to build a bridge at Southwest Eighth Street over the South Florida Conservancy District drainage canal to Sugar Subdivision.

CANAL POINT-Not only have The CRABS tm, America's newest pet sensation, arrived on Broadway sidewalks, but cities across the country have set the stage, too, for the legitimate sale of these delightful hermit crab creatures.

A couple of particulars to consider would be the ecological and humane aspects of merchan-

The legalities of importing and interstate shipping of these animals might also come to mind. The CRABS tm are USDA inspected and carry no communable diseases.

There are no legal constraints on the shipping, from state to state, of land hermit crabs and The Great American Crab Company, Inc. has checked out such possible guidelines with all U.S. Government agencies responsible.

The CRABS tm are imported exclusively from the Caribbean, Puerto Rico in particular, and their exportation to the United States is fully authorized by the Puerto Rican Government's Department of Natural Resources.

No hermit crabs merchandised by the Great American Crab Company, Inc. are derived from American soil. In fact, this company, in co-operation with representatives of the scientific, ecological, and humane communities has helped to piece together a first of a kind panel of competent spokesmen to further explore the peculiarities of hermit crabs.

Although their numbers are slowly dwindling in the Florida Keys, their primary dwelling place in the United States, hermit crabs exist in abundant numbers throughout the Caribbean and pose no apparent ecological threat to that area.

There is, however, a threat to the Florida Keys area, so it is advisable not to remove any hermit crabs from that area so as not to upset the environment.

The Great American Crab Company through legitimate and licensed suppliers obtains its crab supply from privately owned properties where they thrive in quantities that number in the many millions.

After talking with one of the suppliers, Peddlers Cart in Canal Point, much information was gained about The CRABS tm. It was learned that the CRABS tm must have food and water and available climbing space. They must also have a larger shell in their bowl which they will eventually grow into. These CRABS tm also have personalities and seem to be quite and educational pet for all to enjoy.

The CRABS tm can be obtained at Peddlers Cart, where they will be glad to give any information wanted on them and their care.

Please excuse our mess-but don't let it stop you from coming in and seeing our great new items!

Olympic swimming pool planned for Palm Beach Junior College

BELLE GLADE-A plan that could produce an olympic-size, 50,000 swimming pool for the college was approved at the September meeting of the trustees of Palm Beach Junior College.

The trustees approved a request to the Commissioner of Education Ralph Turlington, asking Turlington to seek funds from the state legislature for the project.

The funds would be sought under a law which provides double matching funds for projects in which more than one local governmental agency are involved.

The county commission, the county school board and PBJC will all be involved in the overall swimming pool project. The commission has already approved expenditure of $800,000 of county funds for a pool at Atlantic High School in Delray Beach and if the double matching funds can be obtained from the state, pools will be built at PBJC Central and PBJC-Glades.

The pools will serve the double purpose of swimming classes, water safety education, sports and recreation education for the high school and college and as a recreational facility for the general public.

All three pools would be modeled after the Lake Lytal pool, west of West Palm Beach.

In other action having the Glades campus, the PBJC trustees approved agreements with the city of Belle Glade to furnish water and sewerage to the new campus being built on SR 715.

Wesleyan Guild meets

BELLE GLADE-The Wesleyan Service Guild of the United Methodist Church began its fall season Sept. 19 with a covered dish dinner in the church parlor.

After dinner, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Arvie Mathis, president. Plans were made to participate in the upcoming bazaar to be held in Jameson on Dec. 3.

A gift of appreciation for loyal service to the Guild was presented to Mrs. Clara Bedsole.

Wesleyan Guild meets

The program chairman, Mrs. Lorene Phillips, emphasized the importance of prayer and she introduced Mrs. Martha Allison, who gave a program titled, "The Finger of God."

The Guild set aside a certain time to meet for a prayer meeting, in addition to the prayer chain now active. Mrs. Lorene Phillips closed the meeting by leading the singing of "Lord Forgive"

With our recent heavy rains, many people have become concerned about whether or not fertilizers that were applied previous to the rains have now been leached out. In most cases, unless the fertilizer used contains a high percentage of organic nitrogen, it would be advisable to re-apply fertilizer to any plants that have not been fertilized since July. In most cases it takes only two or three inches of rain to wash out most of the soluble components of your fertilizer and then the plant will very quickly start to exhibit signs of deficiencies, especially iron, manganese and magnesium.

Since many people normally fertilize this month or in October, if you do have to fertilize do not apply extremely large quantities. Fruit trees normally would not need additional fertilizer until next month. Ornamental plants, however, especially small ones, should not be forced to wait for another month before getting fertilized if they are starting to show deficiency symptoms.

When you are buying fertilizer quality one. The old saying of "you get what you pay for" is especially true when it comes to fertilizer components. Many times that bargain special that you feel is really a bargain may not contain everything your plant desires or needs and you would be forced to use another fertilizer to supplement the cheap type that did not contain all the necessary nutrients.

B PW Club holds meet

PAHOKEE-The Business Professional Women (B.P.W.) Club held a program social at the home of Mrs. Maureen Rudd, at Treasure Island. Eighteen members and one guest, Mrs. Vickie Coverdale, were present. In the absence of District Director for the B.P.W., Mrs. Roxanne Curtiss led a question and answer orientation session.

A bar-b-que dinner was prepared for the group by Billy Rudd. The next meeting will be held at the home of Cindy Tuberville on October 8 at 7:30 p.m.

One donation can help many

The United Way really does work for all of us. A partial list of services includes day care centers for children of working mothers, rehabilitation and employment for handicapped persons, foster and institutional care for youngsters from broken homes, neighborhood centers with diversified adult and youth programs and activities, counseling to assist in individual or family difficulties, and immediate emergency aid in times of small or large disasters, whether the disaster is a community-wide or personal one. These agencies seek local solutions to problems of crime and juvenile delinquency, mental illness, alcoholism, family breakdown, child neglect and abuse, illness and rehabilitation.

The services of United Way agencies are available to and used by every segment of our community. They are not restricted to specific areas or economic groups. Our Visiting Nurses, Home Health Aides are for all citizens. We have health care programs for the crippled, the retarded, the helpless and for elderly people.

Big Brothers, Big Sisters, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts who are active in every neighborhood. Thousands of youngsters throughout Palm Beach County regularly use the various branches of the YMCA, YWCA, and Salvation Army. Need—not geography or income—is the decisive factor in the use of agency services.

All United Way agencies are carefully screened and must meet rigorous standards to ensure that citizens receive the maximum benefit from every donated dollar. Yes, indeed, the United Way has something for all of us. Sharing love, time, effort and money are the keys to making it work...

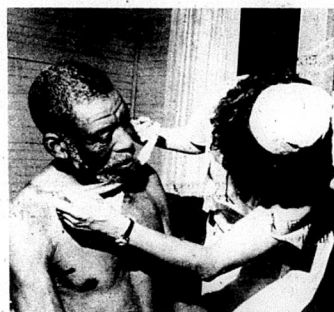

...for ALL of us.

Sikes new salesman at Siboney Motors

BELLE GLADE - Bill Sikes has been named the new salesman for Siboney Motor Center located at 1340 NW Avenue L, Belle Glade. Sikes is originally from the Glades, having been reared in Clewiston. He graduated from Clewiston High School, and from there served in the United States Army. Sikes then attended the University of Maryland.

Until now, Sikes has been involved mainly in politics, having run for office three times. He also served as the office assistance to Congressman Paul G. Rogers from 1967-1972.

Sikes will now be handling the sales of all Siboney's lines, which include Buicks, Cadillacs, Pontiacs, and GMC trucks. According to Jim Gay, sales manager, Sikes will be concentrating on Cadillacs and Buicks in the Clewiston area. Gay also said that Sikes will help balance his selling team. In addition to Sikes, Siboney now has S.M. "Mac" McAllister, a veteran of 26 years in automotive sales in the Glades; Loran Barnes, a well-known Pahokee resident who has in one become one of the leading salesmen in the Glades; and Angel Benitez, the company's Spanish speaking salesman.

Gay also said this is the best time of year for Bill to be introduced to car sales since the new models will be coming out this month. The introduction date for Cadillacs is Sept. 25, and for Buicks, Pontiacs, and GMC trucks, the date is Oct. 6. Siboney has already started receiving some of their new automobiles.

Sikes invites all his friends to stop in for a visit and a look at the new '78's. He also wanted to express his delight with the opportunity to represent a fine car company such as Siboney.

Gertrude Shirley Circle begins study on Ecclesiastes

PAHOKEE-The Gertrude Shirley Circle of the Pahokee Methodist Women met at the home of Mrs. Boyd Vorhees, Tuesday, September 13th. The Circle women are beginning a study on the first chapter of Ecclesiastes. Afterwards, delicious refreshments were served to nine members. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Duan Padgett on October 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Church in Belle Glade. Connell moved to Belle Glade in 1955. He and his brother had a hardware business from 1961 through 1971.

Connell bought Badcock six years ago. He was interested in the business and it became available so he seized the opportunity and has been growing ever since.

Badcock Furniture Store employs five people. They include Aritha Keene, Mary Toledo, John Jackson, Robert Phillips, and Rufus Williams. These people have a combined furniture experience of almost 50 years.

When asked the effects of the energy crisis on his business, Connell said that the only thing he has noticed is the higher rates he must pay each month.

Connell is optimistic about the future. He hopes to continue to grow and wants to see an increase in sales and thus keep up with the progress of the community.

As a native of the Glades, Connell likes the area. He thinks Belle Glade is a real fine business town and that the people are really friendly.

He said that he tries to treat every customer the same, and that he is here to do business and that is what he intends to do. Connell has a policy of "satisfaction guaranteed" and wants all the community to know it.

Badcock is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. every Friday and Saturday.

POLARIS. THE PLANT GROWTH REGULATOR THAT RIPENS SUGAR CANE.

Warm, wet weather may be ideal for growing sugar cane, but it's the last thing you need at a harvest time. This is the kind of weather that causes the cane plant to grow, but not to store sucrose.

Until now, there was little you could do but take unripened cane to the mill. Now, there's Polaris® Plant Growth Regulator by Monsanto, the chemical that stimulates sugar cane ripening. Polaris can increase sucrose levels—in spite of poor ripening conditions such as warm, wet weather.

Polaris is applied about six weeks before harvest. Cane treated with Polaris usually burns better at harvest, resulting in less trash to the mill. What's more, Polaris does not significantly affect cane tonnage, and has no adverse effect on ratoon regrowth.

Find out how Polaris can help you bring better-ripened cane to the mill this harvest. Contact N.F. Eason, (813) 481-1337, or the distributor for Polaris in your area for the full details.

Always read and carefully follow the label instructions for Polaris. Polaris® is a registered trademark of the Monsanto Company, St. Louis, Mo. ©Monsanto Company 1977

Southern Bell makes change in directory assistance plan

BELLE GLADE - An important change was made in Southern Bell Telephone Company's Directory Assistance plan before it took effect on Tuesday, September 20th. Under the change, long distance number requests within the customer's home area code will be exempted from the plan, as long as they are matched by a similar number of long distance calls made within the home area code during that time period. The telephone numbers requested and the telephone numbers called do not have to be identical.

Local manager, Bob White, said the Company was pleased with the addition of "Call Matching," a concept that was developed by Southern Bell and which was originally requested as part of the Company's overall plan.

Under the Director Assistance plan, each customer line will have an allowance of six calls a month, with two requests per call allowed. Calls over that amount will be charged 15 cents each. The six call allowance is designed to meet normal Directory Assistance needs, including numbers not listed in the Directory, and ones that are listed but are difficult to find. As before, calls to long distance Directory Assistance outside of the subscriber's area code are exempt from charging. Also exempt are coin telephone users, hotel guests, hospital patients, and people with handicaps preventing them from using the directory.

South Bay First Baptists plan their homecoming for Sunday

SOUTH BAY - A 49-year past and plans for a $200,000 sanctuary and educational system are being highlighted this Sunday when First Baptist Church holds homecoming festivities.

The Rev. Bill Johnson said the public is invited to attend the activities Sunday, which will include a dinner on the grounds following the noon service and a musical concert at 7 p.m. by The Sounds of Joy from Palm Beach Atlantic College.

"At the same time, he said the congregation is praying over and looking at plans for expansion, which includes a recreational facility and education units as the members look back over a past predating the 1928 hurricane.

"The history of the first 14 years of the First Baptist Church of South Bay are very sketchy," Rev. Anderson said. "It just seems that everything was against the idea of having a church in South Bay."

He said the church began in 1928 when the Rev. W.C. Taylor, pastor of Pahokee, and a former pastor named Rev. York organized the first group of members in May 1928.

"According to information available," Rev. Anderson said, "the charter members were Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Grogan, Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Massee, Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hardy, Mrs. Maude Hartline, Mrs. W.C. Allen and Mrs. H. Registrar."

"The first deacons were R.D. Massee, W.D. Grogan and L.L. Hardy."

He said Rev. Taylor and Rev. York preached to the group at regular intervals in the school house until the September hurricane of that year. "The group was pretty badly scattered until spring of 1929," he said, "at which time Mrs. Grogan donated a lot on the east side of US 27."

Rev. Anderson said a building fund of $525 was quickly gathered and a 28x36 foot frame structure was erected as the first unit. Until 1932, the church operated as a mission with the pastor of Pahokee preaching on Sunday afternoon or on Wednesday night.

He said the church's growth was limited by a number of factors, ranging from the Great Depression, the 1928 hurricane, a scarcity of building materials and World War II.

"Not until 1958," he said, "did things start happening and a small frail Baptist Church on the east side of Highway 27 begin to show signs of a growing era and a new awakening of self identity."

He said the present facilities were built in 1954 and the church membership of 15 grew to 423. "With a building fund that was started by the donation of 95 chickens to the church in 1951, Rev. James Purcell's prayers and visions were now beginning to take shape."

He said it took 13 years from the beginning to the end of the construction project, with the congregation working under three pastors but since that time, he said the church has once again reached the stage of growth it is considering plans for expanding its facilities.

Methodists hold rally

BELLE GLADE - Rally Day services of the United Community Methodist Church were climaxed with a fish fry at John Stretch Park in Lake Harbor Sunday, Sept. 18.

As were all the other Rally Day activities of the Church, the fish fry was well attended, with almost 200 present, ranging in age from five months to 86 years young.

The cooks, Jack Burr, Bill

Schoenfeld, Buck Blair, Lindsay Pate, Lonas Amerine and Glenn Bair served a choice of fish. Catfish were donated by Slim's Fish Camp. Blue gills and bass were from the members' freezers.

Mrs. Marie and Mrs. Jane Schoenfeld baked and served a choice of cakes for desserts. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hollingsworth served loaves to all.

The afternoon's activities were planned and supervised by Miss Rita Schoenfeld. Mrs. Liska Hooker was the coordinator of the afternoon of fun food and spiritual enrichment. As the sun went down, the youth took charge of the Vesper Services with Pam Mathis giving the program, Rick Carter and Rick Mathis leading the devotion. The singing was led by Lee Cranford, accompanied by Julie Pate on guitar with the entire group joining in the singing.

Ministers meet this Saturday

The regular monthly meeting of the Belle Glade Ministerial Association is set for Saturday, Oct. 1 at 8 p.m., in the Conference room of the Glades General Hospital. Officers of the association invite all local ministers to participate, and hope that the Saturday morning meetings will better fit into the week's schedule.

The Belle Glade Ministerial Association seeks to find ways to cooperate in meeting the needs of the community. The continuing project, a transient fund, is designed to offer help to stranded families or individuals who are temporarily without means to return to their homes.

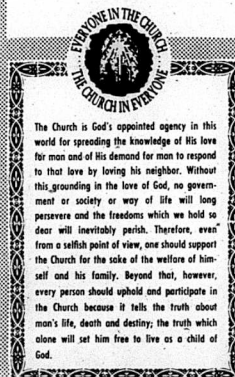

Take a Second Look

On your first look, you may think that this little girl is riding a rocking horse, but look again. It is not a rocking horse but a little donkey.

About animals now, and children. Donkeys were one of the first animals to be tamed by man, and are gentle animals when they are not practicing the quality of being stubborn.

The quality of gentleness somehow reminds us of our Saviour, the Wonderful One.

Parents, teach your children about Jesus, who admonished us to let the little children come unto Him. Our Lord would remind us that the little ones are precious to the Father. We invite you to take the children to church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

P. Coleman Adm. Ser.

New cane variety introduced by Canal Point USDA scientists

CANAL Point-A new high-tonnage, excellent stubbling sugarcane variety has been produced and identified at the Canal Point Sugarcane Field Station, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and is now available to Florida sugarcane producers. The new variety, named CP 70-1133, was developed jointly by the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, Florida Sugar Cane League, Inc. and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service.

The variety has passed through a series of rigorous tests at the Canal Point station during the last eight years, before being released to sugarcane growers as a superior variety.

The entire breeding staff worked on the development of the new variety, which is being registered with Crop Science, a worldwide agricultural journal. Researchers at the Canal Point station who helped develop the variety are: E.R. Rice, Research Agronomist; Dr. J.D. Miller, Research Geneticist; Dr. N.I. James, formerly Research Agronomist now staff and Dr. J.L. Dean, Research Plant Pathologist.

The objective of the breeding program, Dr. Miller said, is to select superior varieties. "We test against the leading commercial variety" which at this time is CP 63-588. The team is constantly at work searching for new superior varieties. "I'd say that in any given year, we are in the process of testing probably about 70,000 varieties in the whole breeding program, all at different stages of testing."

Dr. Miller noted the two outstanding characteristics of the new variety, CP 70-1133, are 1) its high tonnage in plant cane and 2) its high tonnage in stubble crops.

Sugarcane is harvested three to five consecutive years from the same planting and the successive crops are called stubble crops. In field tests conducted in Palm Beach, Hendry and Glades counties, CP 70-1133 produced at least 20% more sugar than the check variety in the first stubble crop and at least 45% more in second stubble crop.

CP 70-1133 is particularly good in growing back and producing large amounts of sugar per unit of cultivated land. Thus it will not have to be replanted as often as other varieties, saving on production costs.

Because of the new variety's excellent stubbling ability, which is necessary for an early harvest, CP 70-1133 can be harvested earlier in the season while the check variety, CP 63-588, which has poor stubbling ability, is more productive when harvested later in the season, Dr. Miller said.

Other characteristics important in a sugarcane variety are its milling qualities, its fiber content, its resistance to diseases, and its stalk weight. On these counts CP 70-1133 compared favorably with other varieties presently being grown in the Glades sugarcane producing region.

The new variety's cold tolerance is somewhat identical to that of variety 588. Dr. Miller said, which of this year occupies about 38% of the sugarcane grown in Florida. CP 70-1133 is one of the most promising varieties developed in recent years.

After some discussion on the resolution and possible wording, City Attorney John Baker, who writes all resolutions and ordinances for the commission, said he would have to know specifically what the commissioners want excluded in order to reword the resolution.

"For me to draft something based on the discussion here tonight," Baker said, "would be a practical impossibility."

"The problem," Altman replied, "is that there is no consensus. I don't believe we should restrict anything permitted anywhere else under the Southern Standards Building Code and Bill (Greer) doesn't believe we should allow wooden homes in Sugar Subdivision. I don't know how the other three commissioners feel."

THE OATH OF OFFICE was administered Monday night by Belle Glade City Clerk June Boglioli to incoming City Commissioners Claude Tindall, William Grear and Kenneth Harris. Tindall was being seated for his first two-year term after defeating 14-year incumbent Aubrey Farmer while Grear was beginning his fifth term and Harris his second. A reorganizational meeting is expected to be on the agenda of a special commission meeting at the city hall annex Monday.

City rec program outlined

BELLE GLADE-The city recreation program begun this past summer has been extended to a year round basis in at least three areas according to Recreation Director Johnny Rutledge, with possibilities of further expansions.

Rutledge said outdoor activities at Belle Glade, Lake Shore and Glade View Elementary Schools will be continued on a year-round basis for all children in the elementary grade level from 2 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

He said the city is taking advantage of the fact a number of CETA employees, whose wages are being paid through federal funding, were hired by the city during the summer but are considered year-round employees

now. "We'll have two CETA supervisors at each playground," Rutledge said. He said the activities will include softball, volleyball, basketball, horseshoes and other games which can be played outdoors.

Rutledge said he is also negotiating with school officials over the possibility of continuing to operate the Lake Shore Middle School gymnasium from 4 to 10 p.m. but that hasn't been resolved.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

The end of World War I brought about many changes in people and their national leaders in almost every facet of life. The winners, if there is such a thing in war, decided Germany should pay reparations to the Allies for all the war had cost them. This was Democracy as interpreted by our leaders and this imposed on Germany an impossible burden of debt. This bankrupted the Democracy of President Von Hindenburg, thereby causing the death of the nation.

In the meantime similar conditions were happening in Russia, Italy and lesser nations causing poverty and want. The people were ready for any kind of change which would relieve their needs.

President Wilson, together with the leaders of our allies, conceived and created an organization known as the League of Nations. This was designed to bring all nations together so they could fight their battles over the conference tables by negotiations instead of on the battle fields with death dealing instruments of warfare. This was a noble worthy cause. The war-torn nations approved it, but our Senate saw fit to reject it. This caused the complete failure of the organization.

From this failure of approval came world chaos. By its death it spawned such characters as Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini, Lennin and Trotsky and many lesser men. So instead of making the world safe for Democracy, we made it safe for those who would destroy it.

Our failure to try through the League of Nations to work out some kind of program besides war to settle differences between nations, brought about World War II in which the sons of veterans of World War One paid the supreme sacrifice due to the failure of our leaders to join in an effort to make the world safe for Democracy.

This especially should be remembered on Armistice Day.

What to cut down on if you want to cut down on your electric bill.

Today, everybody is trying to use less electricity. Partly to conserve energy. But mostly to have lower-cost electric bills.

Yet many consumers don't know which appliances or products use the most electricity. So they go all out trying to save money without really cutting down on their bills.

To help you choose the best ways to conserve energy, we've provided the chart below. Itemized are "typical" appliance usage figures based both on Florida Power & Light research and industry-wide statistics. These figures are intended strictly as examples in that they reflect the average operating costs of various appliances. However, they are a helpful guide to effective cost-cutting. (Also, keep in mind that power usage varies among different product brands; weather conditions; size, location and insulation of a home; and each family's pattern of usage.)

You'll notice that air-conditioners are the heaviest users. But you can still keep cool, dehumidify your home, and realize substantial savings on your cooling costs by setting your thermostat at 78 degrees. If your thermostat isn't marked in degrees, place a good thermometer in a room out of the air-conditioning flow to be sure you're maintaining 78 degrees.

In addition to the information below, our booklet "HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON YOUR ELECTRIC BILL" will give you many helpful tips on energy conservation. And it's free, at any FPL office. Because at FPL, we want to help you save.

Mental health workshop set

BELLE GLADE - The second in a series of workshops designed to work out a three year plan for mental health services in western Palm Beach County has been set for 12:30 p.m. today at the County Office Building by Mental Health Board No. 9.

Jennifer Elliott, a member of the board, said the board is attempting to get more people involved in the planning of mental health services which will be provided by the board's agencies. By April, 1978, the Mental Health Board and the state

Division of Health and Rehabilitative Services will need to develop the three District Plan for services to the community.

For more information, interested persons should contact the board at 747-2323.

training program at Raiford. Also graduating but not pictured was Wayne John Santo.

GCI employees graduate

RAIFORD - Three Glades Correctional Institution employees, Charles August Fredrickson, Edward Lawrence Minor and Wayne John Santo, recently participated in the Correction Training Institute (CTI) here, according to an announcement this week by the Department of Offender Rehabilitation. This was the 17th CTI group to enroll in the minimum standards curriculum required by law. The Training Institute program is taught in conjunction with Lake City Community College and the graduates earn nine semester credits for successfully completing the full time 160-hour course.

The program includes instruction in the Criminal Justice System, Legal Aspects of Corrections, Operational Procedures, Principles of Supervision Human Relations and Technical Training Skills including firearms, first aid and fire fighting technique.

The participants will continue their training with an additional 160 hours taught by regional instructors, on an in-service basis, at GCI.

CTI was certified by the Florida Correctional Standard Council in May 1976 as a training center for correctional personnel. The Council was empowered by the 1974 legislature to establish minimum standards for the certification of correctional officers and training centers.

The curriculum of training is designed to intensify the exposure of the officer and to develop him professionally. It is anticipated that the training program will help materialize the promise of a modern correctional system.

State Insurance Commissioner
Quite often, my office receives calls from throughout the state on auto insurance problems. This week, I am going to answer some of the most often asked questions as clearly and concisely as possible. I may have answered some of the questions in previous columns. However, many Floridians are still unsure about automobile insurance coverage.

Q. What type of insurance coverage is required under the law for my private passenger automobile?
A. Personal Injury Protection, commonly called "PIP," is the only type of coverage required for the private passenger automobile. I might add though, if you are in an accident or if you are convicted of certain driving offenses, you may also be required to purchase liability insurance or show proof of "financial responsibility" before you can continue to drive.

Q. What is personal injury protection?

A. This is what is better known as your no-fault coverage. If you are in an accident, your own company will pay you for the first $5,000 of your medical bills and lost wages, regardless of who was at fault. Under the law, however, PIP payments are limited to 80 per cent of your medical expenses and 60 per cent of lost wages.

Q. Who do personal injury protection (PIP) benefits apply to?
A. Personal injury protection benefits apply, regardless of whether you might be at fault in an accident, all passengers in your car and anyone who drives your car with your permission, provided they don't have other PIP coverage available to them.

Q. What if I or a member of my family is hit by a private passenger car while walking?

A. The PIP coverage will apply for injuries to you, members of your immediate family and other relatives living with you.

Q. Am I still required to carry insurance on my private passenger automobile?

A. Yes, but you are only required to carry PIP coverage until January 1, you will have to show proof of PIP coverage

Pahokee holds Eagles to 3 with tight defense

A superb defensive effort led by Frank Walker with 17 tackles held the Atlantic Eagles to only three points at DelRay Beach Friday night. While a little weak at midfield during the game the two goal line stances of the Blue Devils showed how tight a defense they could be.

The only score of the game an Atlantic field goal came in the first quarter, when the Eagles recovered a Pahokee fumble inside the Pahokee 30. After three plays, Eagle coach Carney Wilder called in his soccer style placekicker Nelson McMurrian, to make it 3-0 Atlantic with 8:59 left to play in the first quarter.

No team got within scoring range until the second quarter as Atlantic, carrying possession over from the first quarter go to the seven yard line of Pahokee but a holding penalty threw them back, and an interception by Joseph Brown killed the drive.

Brown's interception set up Pahokee's longest drive of the day as the Blue Devils with a combination of penalties, passes and runs were able to get deep into Eagle territory where on four and two they had to punt putting the Eagles with their backs to the wall.

The first half ended with Atlantic in possession but unable to move the ball.

The second half started off with the Blue Devils receiving the kick off, but with possession deep in their territory were unable to move down field. Pahokee's punt allowed Atlantic good field position at midfield.

The drive began with Atlantic's Wendell Thomas nine yard run from a pithout. On second down and one Atlantic again gave the ball to Thomas where he again ran for gain reaching the Pahokee 28 and collecting the first down.

From the 28, Atlantic marched down to the goal line where Pahokee began to get tough. Key plays by the entire defensive line as well as the defensive back repeatedly hurled back the powerful Atlantic offensive unit. Pahokee's goal line stance gave the offensive unit the ball gave the Phaokee, but they could only get enough breathing room to get

Warrior offense stopped cold

Raiders slip past Jupiter's defense

BELLE GLADE - Glades Central head football coach - Willie McDonald found himself a quarterback and a strengthened defense Friday night as the Raiders stopped a clock-eating Jupiter offense cold, 6-0 to gain momentum for their last district game this Friday against Cardinal Newman.

McDonald said Monday he was well-satisfied with the offensive job done by junior quarterback Terry Hammon, who was kept busy scrambling from would-be Warrior tacklers and piling up 88 yards in passing for the Raiders. The lone score Friday night, however, came on a four yard run by Jeff Henry which came hard on the heels of a double turnover set up by a pass from Hammon his own 35 yard line to his favorite receiver, Ollie Sheppard, who made it to the Jupiter two before being bumped out of bounds.

Sylvester Knowles was stacked up on the line of scrimmage on the play following the spectacular pass and on the next play, Hammon pithout was fumbled. Jupiter quarterback Scott Jones promptly fumbled the ball back into the hands of the Raiders on the Warrior eight and two plays later, Henry carried it into the end zone.

On a fake PAT kick play, Henry took the snap from center and attempted to sweep left for a two-pointer but was stopped and the Raiders led with the only score of the game, 6-0, with 2:51 left in the first half.

The only other real scoring threat of the night came with little more than two minutes left on the clock as the Warriors drove from their own 49 to the Raider nine before a couple of penalties combined with hard defensive play sent them back to the Raider 29 where the ball went over on downs.

A last-gasp effort on the part of Jupiter came with 12 seconds left in the game and Warrior quarterback Brad Erickson threw a pass good to the Raider 49, only to have his last pass intercepted by Allen Johnson on the Raider 18 and run back to the Jupiter 40 before being run down from behind after the clock ran out.

The Warriors controlled the ball much of the night but the Raider defense refused to allow Jupiter the breaks needed to score.

The Raider defense was led by nose guard Anthony Jones, who made ten tackles and six assists, including four sacks of the Jupiter quarterback, and recovered one fumble.

Linebacker Preston Vickers and Michael Staples were two other defensive standouts, with Vickers making ten tackles and four assists and Staples racking up eight tackles and four assists from his cornerback position, besides punting the ball eight times for an average of 32 yards.

Glades Central will face off against Cardinal Newman at 5 p.m. Friday at Twin Lake Stadium in the final District 14 match the Raiders will see this year. The only other district game already played this year was when Atlantic defeated the Raiders last week.

Baby Raiders whip past Atlantic Eaglets, 12-6

DELRAY BEACH - The Glades Central Baby Raiders got started on their winning way last Thursday evenings as they beat the Atlantic Eaglets, 12-6 in an action filled game.

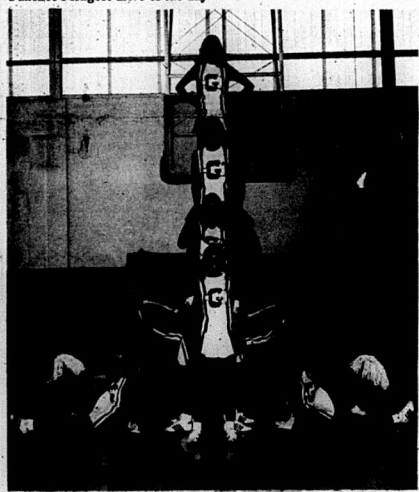

The Raiders rolled up 275 yards in total offense with halfback Greg Bain gaining 104 yards and Carl Harper picking up another 92 yards. The Raider passing attack was also well represented with tight ends Dwayne Jackson gaining 50 yards and one touchdown and Eugene Wells gaining 20 yards.

The Raider offense was led by quarterback Reginald Jernigan, who was put under a lot of pressure throughout the game. The offensive line was led by center Tom Lockett, guards Edward McKenzie and Roy Webb, and tackles Mackie Lee Davis and Arthur Thomas, according to head coach Graham Frost.

Glades Day shut out 13-0 by Mooney, to take on Shorecrest Friday night

The "second half offense" the Glades Day Gators have used to overcome their first two opponents failed to materialize Friday night and the result was the first loss of the season for Coach Byron Walker's young team.

In two previous games, the Gator offense had rallied in the second half to shut out St. Petersburg Northside and King's Academy, but this time it was the opposition's turn.

The first score of the game came early in the third period. Following a Glades Day punt to the 50, Mooney's Sean Dillon broke loose for 44 yards and the score. Bob Speirs kick was good and Mooney was ahead 7-0.

Later in the same period, a Mooney running back fumbled on the Gator 48 and the hometown team recovered, giving them the first real field position of the game.

But a scoring drive was not to be as on the very next play, fullback Winston Byrd lost control of the slippery ball and Mooney had it for keeps.

Mooney then put together its second scoring drive of the game, ending up on the one when Mooney quarterback Bill Cunningham took it over for six. The extra point kick was wide, giving the visitors a 13-6 edge.

In the fourth period, the Gator offense seemed to jell for one series of downs. Quarterback Tom Duda's pass to Elmer Miller was good for the first first down of the Gators, and the Gators gained two more before Duda was intercepted. The Mooney interceptor went all the way for a touchdown, (Continued on Page 2)

Miss Wedgworth earns Furman scholarship to play field hockey

GREENVILLE, S.C. - Diane Wedgworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wedgworth of E. Canal Street, was recently named the recipient of an athletic scholarship to play field hockey at Furman University here.

Miss Wedgworth, a senior at Furman, is receiving her second athletic scholarship in two years but was switched from interest from the swimming team to field hockey.

In an attempt to enhance the women's athletic program in 1977-78, the Furman coaching staff has continued its efforts to recruit several top quality athletes and has signed 23 grant-in-aid scholarships to women this year, with four going to new recruits.

Miss Wedgworth is the only local woman to receive such a scholarship.

NOSE GUARD Anthony Jones slams into Jupiter end, David Lamoine to make one of his ten tackles in the Raiders' Friday night victory over the Warriors. Jones sparked the Raider defense with an incredible display of ten tackles, including four sacks of the Jupiter quarterbacks, six assists and the recovery of a fumble.

Glades Day junior varsity loses to Moore Haven Terriers Thursday

A 205-pound fullback who bulled his way through the defensive line and a series of penalties were mainly responsible Thursday night for the Glades Day Baby Gators losing 16-0 to the Moore Haven junior varsity.

The first score of the game came early in the first quarter, when three penalties forced the ball down to the Gator 23. There, the Terrier Pups carried it over and got the conversion, making the tally good for eight points.

With one minute to go in the same period, a blocked punt set up the final score of the game. This time, the Pups scored on fourth down from the three and got the conversion on a pass.

Coach Dick Schmidt said he was pleased with his defense, especially during the second half, but was disappointed in the offense, which could manage only 53 yards, 40 of which came in the air.

On defense, he singled out Earl Willis with six tackles and seven assists, Victor Perez with eight tackles and five assists. And Danny Copeland, with three tackles and seven assists, for special recognition.

Jason Shelton intercepted a pass and thereby prevented another possible touchdown when the Pups were threatening, said Schmidt.

The Baby Gators will play again on Thursday, Oct. 6 when they meet the LaBelle junior varsity in LaBelle at 7:00 p.m. The Cowboys also lost to Moore Haven, 6-0, in the only game they have played this year thus far.

WSWN announces football schedule

BELLE GLADE - Radio Station WSWN will be broadcasting two high school, two collegiate and one professional football game this weekend according to spokesman Phil Haire.

Haire said the weekend will begin Friday at 7:30 p.m. with Coaches Corner and continue at 7:45 with a live airing of the Glades Day - St. Petersburg Shorecrest game.

At 9:30 a.m. Saturday, a delayed broadcast will be made on FM of the District 14 meeting of Glades Central and Central Newman in Twin Lakes Stadium. Collegiate football will get under way at 2 p.m. Saturday with Notre Dame meeting Michigan State, an AM and FM broadcast and the University of Florida-Louisiana State game will be aired at 8:10 p.m. on FM.

The weekend will wind up at 3:45 p.m. Sunday with the Miami-Houston game in Houston.

Speckled perch season sets early test but the play was called back because of a penalty.

Mooney then ran out the clock, giving the Gators their first defeat of the season.

"Our bright spot was defense," said Coach Walker. "The trouble is, we're playing the boys both ways, but they are doing it on defense and not on offense."

One of the blows in the game came when leading tackler Bruce Sweet suffered a strained muscle in his back and left the field by ambulance. The injury was minor, if painful, and he will be back this Friday. Both Mooney touchdowns came over Sweet's position after he was out of the game.

"Mooney got the big plays on us," said Walker. "They also played a good ground game, which wasn't expected." Last year, Mooney beat the Gators 41-0 with six touchdowns coming through the air.

"We played decent pass defense, but we still need work there," said the coach. "My big disappointment was in our offense."

Friday night, the Gators will have one more home stand before going on the road. The team they will meet at Gator stadium at 8:00 p.m. is St. Petersburg Shorecrest, which won second place in the State AA finals last year.

Shorecrest will be coming to Gatorland with a 2-1 record, identical to Glades Day.

"They're big and have a good quarterback," said Walker. "He's an excellent passer and they have speed in their backfield."

Walker said he didn't expect to make major changes in offensive tactics in preparation for Shorecrest.

Defensive coach Tony Rodriguez noted his charges stopped a running back in Mooney's Dillon that had 140 yards in his previous game, but could only manage 30 against the Gators.

Rodriguez singled out Basil Markham and Doug Tanner for special praise, along with Sweet. "After Bruce got hurt, they started driving off tackle and making yardage," he said. Tanner "played hurt" most of the game after he was clipped, but stayed in there doing his job. "He's one of the hardest workers we have on the team," said Rodriguez.

One of the other bright spots for the Gators will be a fairly healthy team. With the exception of Quequi Echave, all the players will be ready Friday night for Shorecrest. Kenny Buckner is "still hobbling" but had a good game against Mooney with seven tackles and ten assists.

"It should be an interesting game," said Walker. "If we can get our offense going, we should be able to beat them."

away a punt. The tactic of turn downs and maybe a first down the three more downs and then punt, continued throughout the last two quarters with neither offense able to march down field against super tight defenses. Pahokee's final possession came late in the fourth quarter, with less than two minutes left on the clock. The final possession for the Eagles ended with Pahokee's defensive unit again putting up their curtains in front of their goal line. The final Atlantic play was a fourth down pass by Michael Sharpe from the eight yard line which was slapped away by Osmond Edwards to give the ball to Pahokee with about a minute left on the clock. Two running plays by Joseph Brown and Ronnie Osborne netted no gain for the Blue Devils with 51 seconds left Osborne passed but the throw was incomplete, now fourth and 10 on their own 8 yard line. Pahokee again passes and on the bomb pass interference was called giving the first down to the Blue Devils on the 23. A sack by Atlantic which threw Osborne back for 5 yards. Two more incomplete passes ended the game for Pahokee. The Pahokee defensive unit was lead by Frank Walker with 17 tackles, William Joseph with 14, Nathaniel Hannah with 12, Joe Brown who intercepted one pass and Isaac Nelson who recovered one fumble. They held the Atlantic defensive unit inside the 10 three times. The offensive unit of Pahokee netted a negative 63 yards, attempted 13 passes, completed three with one interception. There was 23 rushing plays for a negative 81 yards. There were eight punts for a 40 yard average with two punts returned for a seven yard average. Ronnie Osborne rushed 14 times for - 68 yards, Lawrence Williams rushed three times for no gain, Troy Peterkin rushed three times for - two yards. Pass receptions were Vance Bush, one for 10 yards, Marvin Brit, one for six yards, and Joseph Brown, one for two yards.

Empire Insurance to be charged

TALLAHASSEE - Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter announced today that the Florida Department of Insurance has been appointed ancillary receiver of Empire Mutual Insurance Company of New York for the purpose of conserving the company's Florida assets. The Leon County Circuit Court also ordered that all insurance policies in effect in Florida will be cancelled October 7, 1977. Gunter urged Florida policyholders to secure new coverage.

Gunter suspended Empire Mutual's Florida license on September 7, following the court ordered appointment of the New York Insurance Commissioner as rehabilitator of the company. Circuit Court Judge Charles E. Miner ordered the Department of Insurance to take possession of the company's Florida properties, securities and estates and to hold them until further court order. Rehabilitation efforts in the State of New York included cancelling all policies issued outside that state. Policies issued in New York State will remain in force.

Empire Mutual was licensed in Florida to sell fire and casualty coverages, including automobile insurance. Gunter said that inquiries about Empire Mutual should be directed to the Division of Rehabilitation and Liquidation, Department of Insurance, P.O. Box 110, Tallahassee, 32302.

Doctors respect death debate

Most physicians try to respect the wishes of a dying patient who doesn't want extraordinary measures used to prolong the last spark of life, even though the doctor's legal and ethical position sometimes is not clear.

This is the finding of the American Medical Association as reported by the Palm Beach County Medical Society.

The doctors polled were asked: "Let's say a patient is terminally ill and has expressly indicated that no extraordinary measures be used to keep him alive when death is imminent. Since all the legal and ethical issues involved are not yet completely resolved, what do you think is the best course for the physician to follow?"

Most physicians surveyed seemed to feel that when a patient has made a "no intervention" decision, a doctor should respect it, providing minimal support care and making the patient as comfortable and free from pain as possible.

Many physicians, however, say that this course should be pursued only after the decision is carefully noted in the record. A few doctors said they would seek legal counsel or seek guidance from other non-involved physicians.

The real dilemma arises, some doctors said, when a patient wants to be allowed to die and his family wants every measure used to keep him alive. There were no good answers to this problem.

More than three-fourths of the poll respondents said they do discuss death with terminally ill patients who are able to respond. Some 94.5 percent of the respondents said they try to adhere to the patient's wishes.

Local student gets taste of classroom teaching

LAKELAND - Melinda Blair, a Florida Southern College senior from Belle Glade, is getting her first view of the classroom from the other side of the teacher's desk this semester.

Miss Blair, an education major, is one of the 26 Florida Southern students who are serving as intern teachers in Polk County elementary and secondary schools this fall.

The daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Guldinar J. Blair, Miss Blair is teaching at St. Petersburg High School.

Managing Your MONEY

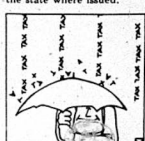

TAX-FREE MUNICIPAL BONDS

By Robert C. Dunwoody
When are you in the right income bracket to enjoy the tax advantage of a municipal bond? Perhaps this example will help:

If the taxable income on your joint return is in the neighborhood of $30,000 a year, you're probably in the 40 percent Federal Income Tax bracket. In this bracket the purchase of a municipal bond with a current yield of 6 percent compares to a 10 percent return on a taxable issue, such as a corporate bond or common stock. But tax savings are not the only advantages of municipal bonds experts point out. Two other advantages are safety (second only to securities issued by the U.S. government) and liquidity. Currently, there are well over $200 billion worth of municipal issues outstanding.

Interestingly, 10 years ago, municipal bonds were bought primarily by large institutions. But within the past decade more and more individual investors have become interested in them because of their safety, liquidity and tax-free interest.

"No great man ever complains of want of opportunity."
